ASK ADVANTAGE

Post your questions to Facebook or Twitter!

Q: I have some shrubs I want to heavily prune. Is now a good time?

A: Yes, fall is a great time to cut things back. I always do any heavy pruning in the fall. It allows the plant to recuperate and send out new growth in the spring. Be aware that trimming spring blooming shrubs in the fall will limit blooms the following spring.

Q: How does your snow plowing work? Do I have to call every time it snows or can you just be there before I have to leave in the AM?

A: Once you are on our snow plowing schedule, you do not have to call for service. Anytime accumulations are 2" or more we will be there accordingly. Based on the weather, we try our best to get all plowing done by early morning.

FALL SERVICES

FALL LEAF CLEAN-UP, HARDSCAPE MAINTENANCE & LAWN AERATION

It's not too late to sign up for fall clean-ups, lawn aerating, or other landscape services.

Our fall clean-ups include : A detailed collection of leaves and debris from lawns, landscapes and paved areas, cutting all perennials, pruning all trees and shrubs, vacuuming and raking all leaves, cleaning gutters & hauling away leaves (optional) weekly, bi-weekly, or once-a-season.

Additionally, fall is the PERFECT time to maintain those driveways and patios with sealing and/or sweeping in polymeric sand.

Our fall lawn maintenance can include lawn aeration, fertilizer application and overseeding.

CHRIS' THOUGHTS

Fall is the best time to improve the health of your lawn and reap the benefits next spring. A healthier lawn with less thatch, will prevent lawn disease, improve depth and extent of roots, reduce water run-off and puddling and reduces heat and drought stress on your lawn.

Lawn Aeration : a process of removing small plugs of thatch and soil to improve the flow of air, water and nutrients.

Seeding : spot seeding (seeding small areas with a spreader), slit seeding (machine that places seed in the ground), overseeding (seeding larger areas with a spreader).

Fall Fertilizer Application : fall applications need to be high in phosphorous (that's the 2nd number you see in a percentage analysis N-P-K on a fertilizer label - such as 5-10-5) to stimulate root growth before winter sets in, insuring that the lawn will green-up quicker in the spring and become more resistant to disease and drought.
